

— THE FOG WILL LIFT

A quiet place at the edge of the water.

Art for the experiences we were told to hold quietly.
You don't have to know the words yet. You just have to be here.

WHY THIS EXISTS

TODAY'S PIECE

Authenticity

The face we wear in public, the one we carry alone. Both are real. Both belong here.

i.

No pressure

Browse silently. Leave whenever. This site is not asking anything of you.

iii.

Real, not performed

Every piece is drawn from a real experience. Nothing here is here to shock you.

ii.

Soft entries

Heavy pieces are tucked behind gentle doors. You choose what you open.

iv.

You are welcome

Whether you've arrived in pain or just walked by. The door is open either way.

"some things move at the speed of water."

A NOTE FROM THE ARTIST

I made this in the kind of quiet I needed first.

The project began on nights when I couldn't say a thing out loud and needed somewhere for it to go. Then readers wrote in. They had things they needed pictures for and had never found.

So the collection is what we've made together. Every piece begins with a real experience, given to me, and returned to anyone else who needed to know they weren't alone in it.

THE COLLECTION

Pieces, grouped by what they hold.

No graduation. No required order. Open the one that calls to you. Skip the ones that don't.

A

IDENTITY

Authenticity

The face you carry alone is just as real as the one you show the world.

HEALING

Process of Healing

Not linear. Layered, slow, and still worth every step.

The Wolf Series

Behind the Mask

What looks dangerous from the outside often just learned to protect itself.

U

EMOTIONAL PAIN

Unable to Cry

Sometimes the pain moves past tears into something heavier and harder to name.

— A REQUEST

If something you've lived doesn't have a piece
yet, tell me about it.

Anonymous is welcome. A few sentences is enough. I read every one.
