

a soft place at the edge

Pull up a chair. Stay until the light shifts.

Art for the experiences we were told to keep small.
Tended like a slow morning. Walked at your own pace.
The door is always open.

Why this exists

Authenticity

today's piece · the face we carry alone

i.

No pressure

Browse silently. Sit with a piece. Leave whenever. This site is not asking anything of you.

ii.

Soft entries

Heavy pieces are tucked behind gentle doors. You choose what you open. Nothing here is here to shock you.

iii.

Real, not performed

Every piece is drawn from real experience. None of them are made to perform the pain.

a note from the artist

I made this to be the kind of room I needed first.

Soft enough to enter without performing anything. Honest enough to name behind the mask the hard things by their right names. Quiet enough that you can hear yourself.

If a piece finds you here, that means another person has lived something close to it. You are in good company at the edge of this thing.

Walk slow. Take what calls. Leave what doesn't.

Every piece is paired with the experience it was drawn from. You can hover, you can click, you can also just look.

a request

If something you've lived doesn't have a piece yet, tell me about it.

Anonymous is welcome. A few sentences is enough. I read behind the mask every one.
