

— A QUIET PLACE UNDER COVER

The woods knew before we did.

An archive for the experiences that always belonged outside the bright rooms. Where the moss grows slow, the light comes in sideways, and nobody tells you to hurry up.

— A NOTE FROM THE ARTIST

I made this in the kind of quiet the woods give back.

The project began on nights when nothing in the bright rooms made sense.

The work is honest. It is also old. The kind of old that says: this has been carried before, and you are not the first to set it down.

You are not strange for feeling what you feel. You are human. You are welcome here.

RECENT PIECES

Pieces, grouped by what they hold.

Each piece is paired with the experience it was drawn from. Open one. Skip the ones that don't call.

IDENTITY

Authenticity

The face you carry alone is just as real as the one you show the world.

Distorted responsibility

STRENGTH

The Wolf Series

What looks dangerous from outside often just learned to protect itself.

Seasons
Behind the Mask

Every season of suffering carries the seed of the next season of growth.

EMOTIONAL PAIN

Unable to Cry

Sometimes the pain moves past tears into something heavier and harder to name.

A NEW SERIES

A series of pieces with the stories underneath them. Written by the artist over the nights it took to put words to a thing most people never get to read about. Hold back the painful truth confession until the closing piece is ready.

Not for shock. For company. If you've lived a version of this, you may find a few pieces here that knew before you did.

A REQUEST

If something you've lived doesn't have a piece yet, tell me about it.

Anonymous is welcome. A few sentences is enough. I read every one.
